I cannot guarantee you or anyone else any specific results or amounts of money that will be made with this method. The method worked for me but it does not mean it will work for you or anyone else, especially if you are not willing to put in the time and effort to make it work. With that being said, there is great potential in this method but it really depends on the hours you are willing to put in, your patience and willingness to be consistent. I'd also like to note that some of the links in this eBook are affiliate links and reviews of products, some of which I have bought and used myself.

Introduction

Hey thanks for getting this info on how I made $373.50 On JVZoo In less than 24 hours.

Okay let's start from the top, I started my blog sometime in April this year amidst the lockdown after registering the domain name several months earlier and have gone on to make over $1000 in the last 3 months - not a bad start for a newbie.

I have literally started from the bottom and now I am about to share with you a simple technique I used to make $373.50 in less than 24 hours.

Just to be clear, I made this commission on JVZoo after 24 hours but some work was done a few days earlier, so if you will put that into consideration you can say about 4 days of work.

But that is just how long I took (and you will find out why) to get it done. You can definitely do this in 24 hours, if you are fast enough.

Alright let's get this started...

Getting Started

All I did was to head over to muncheye (after several weeks off). I picked a product to promote among the ones soon to be launched under the big launches section.

The screenshot shows two columns of product listings. The left column is titled 'Big Launches' and the right column is titled 'All Launches'. The product 'Mario Brown et al: Synthesys $67 at 50%' is highlighted with a red box in the 'Big Launches' column.

I selected a couple of them, I clicked through to find their JV pages and docs and I applied to be an affiliate. I applied to a couple of them, one of which was Synthesys by Mario Brown.

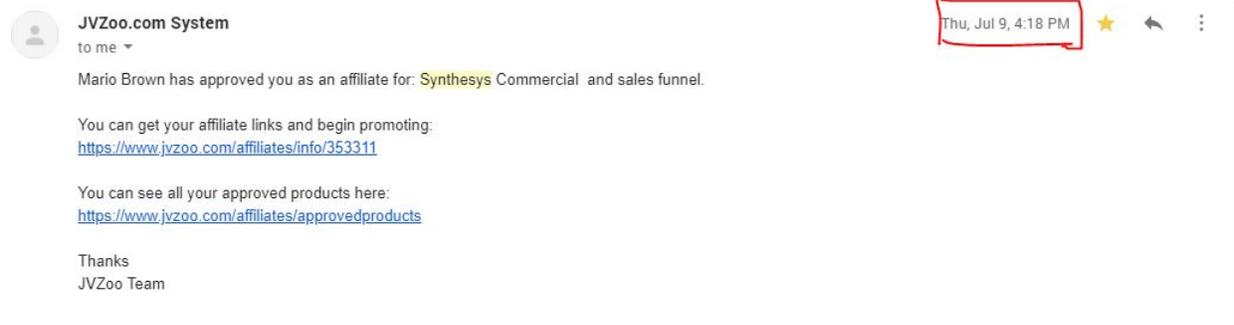

All I did was apply to be an affiliate and wrote a short note indicating how I intend to promote the product.

I can't remember what I wrote precisely, but it went something like this.

Hello Mario, I would like to promote your product Synthesys by writing a review article and creating a video review on my blog. I would also promote it to my email list. Thanks, looking forward to working with you.

And In a couple of days I received an approval email from JVZoo stating Mario had approved me.

Notice the date it was approved, I applied about 3 days earlier.

The reason I like to apply early is so I have enough time to write and promote my post.

So, the next thing I did was head back over to the JV page and read through the information there. I checked the JV doc and for more information also.

The product, Synthesys is a software that converts text to human-like voices, a way better improvement from the robotic voices we were used to.

I was excited about this product and really considered getting one myself in the future. Especially when I want to start taking Youtube a bit more seriously.

Now, all I had to do was head over to my blog to start writing. But for some reason I got so busy with other projects and forgot to write the article.

Writing The Review

So while I was working one of the days I got another JVZoo approval email from another vendor, Neil Napier to promote his product called Funnelvio (which is a good alternative to Clickfunnels).

Just then I remembered. Oh S**t...Synthesys.

I confirmed the date of launch on muncheye...3 days to go. Godamn it.

I quickly logged in to my blog, went over to my older posts that have been successful like the review article I wrote about Joshua Zamora's DFY suite 2.0, Neil Napier's Mailvio and Robby Blanchard's Commission hero which have made me $503.54 in the month of April. Check out my case study here.

I took them as a template to write my review on Synthesys (check out the bonus I added for a Checklist) and after a couple of hours I was half way through and because I had to attend to other things, I was able to complete the article the next day.

Creating Video Review

I could not create a video (although I wish I did) but since I did not have much time on my hands, I simply downloaded the video demo and also merged a couple of audio examples I found on the JV page and created a short video which I uploaded to my Youtube channel.

It got a couple of views. No voice narration, no thumbnail, just Synthesys voice examples.

I have not been so successful with video reviews and besides if I wanted to create a video, I really wanted to use Synthesys. Plus, I did not ask Mario for a review copy because the truth is I wasn't really willing to go through the hassle of creating a full video review in such a short time. So I didn't really bother.

Next, I optimized my article as much as I could and spread my affiliate links throughout the article. Using the right images also.

Bonuses

I barely added any bonuses because that would mean designing a new page and adding a lot of other things I did not have the time for.

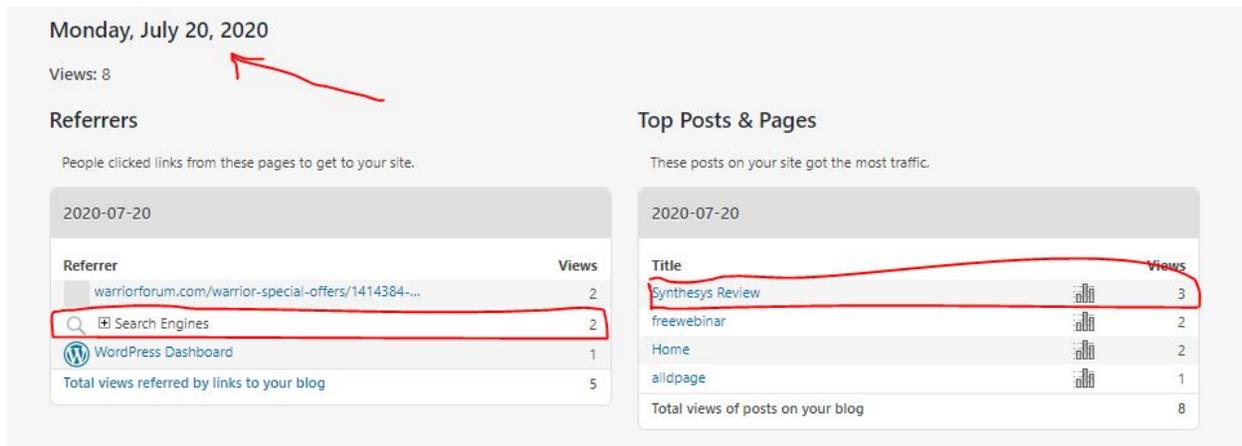

All I did was add the vendor's bonuses and that was all.

Traffic Source

Next thing I did was submit the article to be indexed on Google and after a couple of hours it was done so I could get some search engine traffic.

I knew I had very limited time to push any form of SEO on the blog post other than the On-page optimization I have done already. But I wrote the article anyway, just to have some content on my blog as it's been a while since I wrote anything.

The product launched on the 20th of July 2020 at 11am EST and I started getting trickle amount of traffic from search engines.

The next day was worse.

And the next...

At that point I knew SEO was not the best for now. So all I did was share the post on Facebook and not just my Facebook wall but the main focus was Facebook groups I had joined earlier.

I shared it to as many as I could without looking spammy.

Not so bad compared to the previous level of traffic I was getting from search engines. But then I didn't bother to check my stats or anything else the next day as I was busy with other things.

But on the 25th just about 48hrs later, I was trying to write a blog post to document my earnings for each month starting from April in order to encourage myself and keep tab of my successes and failures.

I went over to JVZoo to get some of my earning stats and....no way

I made $373.50

Which seems to be the highest I have made so far from one single product. Not so bad for a newbie who started off 3 months ago.

I really don't know why I did not receive an email from JVZoo to notify me of my sale, but I was really glad to see green numbers on my JVZoo dashboard.

As a bonus I have added a couple of Facebook groups (check the traffic tap list bonus) you can join to drive traffic to your reviews and make some quick bucks with.

Conclusion

I never really liked Facebook except for connecting with like minded people in the IM niche. But this simple technique is a real eye opener and has proven to be a powerful tool for free traffic generation.

So this is what I did and you should try it too.

The key is starting out and being consistent. I have made about $1077.50 in total since I started my online business and trust me, this is very encouraging for any newbie out there.

Sure, Gurus are making what I have made so far in just a couple of hours each day and I intend to get to that point. But for now, I am really glad at the mini successes I have been able to achieve and I am also happy to share them with you.

You can do this, all you need to do is START. You might not get the same results, but it is worth a try and if you fail (like I have at different times) you will only be wiser in the end.

Trust me Failure Is Good.

Thanks for reading this.

To Your Success,

Michael Martins
